COUNTY COMMITTEE ISSUES LETTER

Compton, Ill., Nov. 1, 1906.

Fellow Republicans:

Tuesday the polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m., and we urge you to vote early. This is the first election since the new primary law went into effect. We have nominated a splendid ticket. It absolutely represents the wishes of our party. At the primaries we all voted for the candidates of our choice. We may not have voted at the primaries for these nominees, but a large majority of our party did so. That fact should be sufficient for us now and on Tuesday we should all vote the straight ticket. The majority should always rule.

Our ticket is an unusually strong one. The candidates are all men of ability, and experience in public affairs. They have made an absolutely clean campaign. No word has ever been spoken against any of them except by some political opponent or by some one inspired by a selfish or sinister motive. Statements made under such circumstances should never be relied upon.

In a measure, President Roosevelt's administration is on trial. A falling off in the republican vote would greatly encourage the democrats and make our fight harder two years hence when a president is to be elected. Complimentary votes are dangerous. We cannot afford to take chances. None of us want such times as we had from '92 to '96.

The stay-at-home vote is always a source of danger. Please don't allow anything to keep you from the polls. Let all vote, and vote the straight ticket.

The Lee County Republican Central Committee,

J. W. BANKS, Chairman.

W. F. PRESTON, Sec.

WILSON DID NOT CONVINCE REPUBLICANS

THAT WE WANT A DEMOCRAT TO REPRESENT THIRTEENTH DISTRICT.

LOWDEN WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

All Who Heard Wilson Should Hear Lowden's Statement of the Issues Presented.

Jas. P. Wilson delivered a speech at the Dixon opera house Saturday evening to a pleasant audience of republicans as well as democrats of our city and vicinity, which was well received and fully appreciated, we believe.

W. B. Brinton presided at the meeting and at the close of several excellent selections by the Watson-Plummer band, introduced Henry S. Dixon, who spoke briefly concerning the democratic candidates for county offices and closed with kind words for Mr. Wilson and assurance of his personal support.

Mr. Brinton then introduced Alex. Anderson of Woosung, a neighbor of Mr. Wilson and a republican with strong democratic affiliations both as to his father-in-law and his brother-in-law. Mr. Anderson claims to be the organizer of the "Wilson Republican club" in Woosung and used so much time in telling of his accomplishment and the whys and wherefores that the gentlemen on the platform became excessively uneasy. He finally ceased speaking and gave Mr. Brinton an opportunity to introduce Mr. Wilson, whom the audience was patiently waiting to hear.

He opened with an eloquent tribute to the women, taking his mother as an example of goodness and piety. He stated that he was "nominated for a high office by the party with which" he had "been affiliated with for many years," the nomination coming "as the unanimous wish of the party, backed up by many honest, patriotic, liberty-loving republicans."

The record of the convention, however, does not fully sustain Mr. Wilson's statement as to the unanimity of his nomination. The vote stood sixteen for him and fifteen against Mr. Wilson in the nominating congressional convention. He has probably made the statement that his nomination was unanimous so often that he now really thinks it is true. It would not be so regarded by a disinterested party.

Just what republicans had to do with his nomination we do not understand; probably he considers that statement a joke on republicans.

We are pleased to record that Mr. Wilson's opinions as to the "honesty" and "patriotism" of republicans has changed wonderfully since his last political speeches in Dixon. Republicans then, in his expressed opinion, were about all rascals, thieves and boodlers.

But circumstances alter cases. Then he did not desire republican votes; he now says republicans are "honest and patriotic." His conversion is marvelous.

The Telegraph, the day before his speech, intimated that he would attempt to flatter republicans, and that was a true prophecy, for his expressions of opinion regarding republicans were as mild as a lamb.

The Telegraph printed a number of pertinent questions for Mr. Wilson to answer, one of which was (in view of his boasted corporation smashing desire): Did he have a free pass on the railroad when a mem-

COL. LOWDEN SPEAKS AT OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

o'clock and would be especially pleased to see all who heard Hon. J. P. Wilson's address Saturday night. Those who wish to hear the colonel should be there early. The Dixon Marine band will furnish the music for the occasion.

REPUBLICAN TICKET CHOICE OF THE PEOPLE

The Sun insults every republican in Lee county when it states that the republican ticket is a ring ticket.

The republican ticket is the people's choice, it was nominated by all the people at the primaries. A ring had nothing to do with the naming of the republican candidates.

Every voter in the county, democrat as well as republican, had a hand in naming both tickets, and the Sun knows that to be true.

For years the people made a demand for a primary law. The people got a primary law, and now the Sun insults the voter by stating that the ticket named under the primary law is the product of a ring.

The candidates the people wanted were nominated and now are they to be turned down and sacrificed for a democrat?

The voter who votes the primary ticket is certainly not ruled by party spirit, but by public spirit, for the public and not the party ring named the ticket.

LITTLE BOY RECEIVED SERIOUS INJURY TO LEG

Son of John Ryan Nearly Lost Leg by Catching It in a Carriage Wheel.

The little five year old son of John Ryan was quite seriously hurt in an accident at his home Saturday evening about 4:30 o'clock. He tried in some way to climb over a wheel into a carriage and frightened the horse which started to run and caught the little fellow's leg in the spokes of the wheel. Both bones below the knee were broken and the leg was almost torn off at the point of the fracture. Dr. Moore was called to the home immediately and had the boy removed to the hospital. The leg was placed together and the bones set, and the doctors have some hopes that they may be able to save it.

VOTE TOMORROW WITHOUT FAIL

REPUBLICANS SHOULD REBUKE MUD-SLINGING CAMPAIGN OF THE DEMOCRATS.

SUPPORT ACTION OF PRIMARIES

People's Ticket Was Selected Then and People Should Stand by Majority's Wish.

Today closes the most remarkable campaign in the history of Lee county politics and it is now up to the voters to decide which set of candidates is the best and most ably fitted to fill the offices and who have made the cleanest and most sane campaign.

The campaign has been remarkable in many respects. There has been an outpouring of vile vituperation, slander, libelous billingsgate and rottenness on the one side, while the other side has put up a clean campaign, the candidates running strictly on their merits and the cleanness and honesty of the past administration.

The people will decide tomorrow. And it is certainly up to the people to vote. They are in honor bound to support the ticket which is their own nomination; for the new primary laws have made the people the instigators of their own politics. For that reason the vote will be large. And the republican majority will be up to the mark which the honest and careful citizens of this county have set in years gone by.

The polls will be open from 7 till 5 o'clock and the polling places will be as follows:

First Precinct—Howard Johnson's cigar store, 78 Galena avenue.

Second Precinct—Ayers' building, Hennepin avenue.

Third Precinct—Youngman & Vail coal office, 620 Depot avenue.

Fourth Precinct—Finkler's restaurant, College avenue and First street.

Fifth Precinct—Anderson's shop, East Fellows street.

Sixth Precinct—Raymond's coal office, 760 North Crawford avenue.

OFFICIAL BALLOTS BEING DISTRIBUTED TODAY

Nearly 10,000 official ballots for the election tomorrow were distributed to the election judges of the county today. Harry Warner, W. C. Thompson and Fred Dimick of the county clerk's office are making the distribution, which is the last of preparations for the election which have been a matter of some work. The ballots for the different precincts have been counted and sealed into bundles, on which have been marked the election precinct and number of ballots contained. When these packages, together with the poll books and tally sheets have been delivered a receipt is obtained for the same, and the judges receiving have to account for and return every ballot received. Just twice as many official ballots as are needed to supply the precincts are printed each year, the extra ones being held in reserve for accidents, etc. The number of official ballots printed this year was 21,800.

Silas Fry of Pine Creek is in the city today shopping.

The Unity Guild of the People's church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church parlors.

DIXON PRODUCE TO FOREIGN MARKETS

THE DIXON CEREAL COMPANY IS MAKING BIG SHIPMENTS TO CUBA.

CAPACITY GREATLY INCREASED

Shipment of 200,000 Pounds of Corn Meal in One Order—Hominy Feed to Germany.

The Dixon Cereal company, whose plant is located on Depot avenue, is gaining a foreign reputation of magnitude which can not be other than a matter of pride to the proprietors and the people of Dixon. This foreign reputation has increased so gradually that those not connected with the institution it is; but now the capacity of the modern plant is taxed to its utmost, and every bit of the product is shipped away.

The attention of the public was drawn to the Cereal company in the spring when the new engine room, boiler and engine were added. Since then considerable new and modern milling machinery has been added and the company is now installing a new grain cooler, one of the best in the state.

Four cars are being loaded today with corn meal which will be shipped to Havana, Cuba, via New Orleans. The order is a remarkably big one and shows how wide the business of the local concern extends. There are 1,000 sacks of the meal, each weighing 200 pounds, or a total of 200,000 pounds in the shipment. This is not the first meal sent to Cuba from Dixon, but it is the largest order. In addition to the American trade, which is large, the company is regularly shipping hominy feed to Germany. The recently installed machinery gives the plant a capacity of 1,000 bushels of feed per day, and the management announces that there are orders enough ahead to keep the mill running to capacity until December 1st.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

MRS. EDDY—THE WOMAN.

Disreputable journalism strikes its lowest depths when it attacks an aged woman who has grown old gently and gracefully in living and teaching what she believed with thousands of her followers, to be the pure essentials of pure thought, pure speech and pure acts.

It remained for one of New York's representatives of degenerate journalism to invade the privacy of Mrs. Eddy's home, in Concord, to print an alleged interview with her and to say certain things about her that another New York paper—openly opposed to Mrs. Eddy's teachings—has shown today to have been unqualifiedly false.

Twelve newspaper representatives were courteously received in Mrs. Eddy's home yesterday. They went there to verify or disprove, according to the facts, the manifestly biased story of a few days before. What did these twelve reporters discover? D

The New York Sun prints the result of their visit today. The Sun is unfriendly to Mrs. Eddy's teachings, yet what it says today bears the impress of truth and fairness. Mrs. Eddy stood during the interview, steady and holding on to a portiere curtain; her voice trembled slightly, but was remarkably level and deep; her face was white, her head and hands trembled, her features were thin and pointed; at the close of the interview she walked to the carriage with "stately, languid grace, hardly suggestive of old age." In a word, the visitors discovered that a woman 85 years of age had the ordinary appearance of being old.

How many persons of 85 could have conducted themselves as Mrs. Eddy did during this trying newspaper inquisition? To attain such an age, to carry it gracefully, to be able to go for a drive daily, to walk with a "stately, languid grace" usually means to have lived a clean and a wholesome life.

Such a life unquestionably has been that of Mrs. Eddy. For forty years she has been teaching what she believed to be a doctrine of pure thinking and pure living. Thousands all over the world have thought sufficient of her teachings to "follow her, to revere her, to honor her. The lives of these poor followers are open to their fellows, and the average of these lives is of a high order.

Now Mrs. Eddy has grown old. Physically she shows the ordinary marks of age; mentally she appears to be as young and strong as ever. One does not need to subscribe to her teachings to see in her a woman of extraordinary force of character, a woman who has followed the ideal of what life should be, a woman who has earned the respect that all fair-minded people pay to old age.

Mrs. Eddy, the woman, is worthy of our regard. Hers has been a life of doing good, of trying to make the world better, according as the light has come to her. One need not believe that her way is the only way, but one cannot be just to oneself and to one's best impulses and not condemn with all the strength that words can convey that cowardliness, meanness, uncharitableness and unmanliness that would seek to cast disrespect and ridicule on this gentle, pure, high-minded, earnest, aged gentlewoman.—Chicago Post.

COSTING ALMOST TWICE AS MUCH BY COAL AS BY GAS.

Can you afford to throw away money in this way to say nothing about your waste time. Here is a fair exhibition showing that it costs less than one half the amount to cook with Gas that it does to cook with coal. Almost every woman who has ever tried one of our Gas Ranges in her kitchen says that she would never again be without one.

HEAD THEOSOPHIS HURT

Olcott in a Railway Wreck in Italy and "In a Bad Way," Says a Dispatch.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—Colonel Henry Steele Olcott, of Adyar, India, the president-founder of the theosophical society and co-worker in her life—

HENRY STEELE OLCOTT. time of the late Helen P. Blavatsky, has been seriously injured in a railway wreck in Italy, according to private advices received by a member of the society in this city.

Beyond stating that he had been placed in a hospital and is "in a bad way," no details are given. Because of his advanced age fears for his recovery are entertained. Colonel Olcott at the time was on his way home to India from Chicago, where he had presided at the annual convention of the American section of the Theosophical society, held in that city in September.

HE GOT ONE TURKEY

President Hunts the Elusive Bird for Three Days Before He Succeeds.

Washington, Nov. 5.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt have arrived at Washington from Pine Knot, Va., where they went Wednesday last on an outing. The president spent his entire time while at Pine Knot in hunting wild turkeys. He had never shot one, although he often hunted them.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings the start was made at 4 o'clock, and the hunt kept up all day. It was not until late Saturday afternoon, however, that the president accomplished his desire. He shot a wild turkey, the only one shot during the three days of hunting.

Terribly Fatal Mine Accident.
Corning, O., Nov. 5.—Four men were killed and two seriously injured in an accident at mine No. 1 at San Toy, the men being crushed in a mine cage and their bodies hurled to the bottom of the shaft, 150 feet below. The dead are Casper Weaver, John Hinds and two foreigners, names not ascertained. The injured—John Wright, both legs broken and internal injuries; Archie Williams, aged 15, body crushed, may die.

Happy Over Peary's Success.

St. Johns, N.D., Nov. 5.—The news of Commander Peary's latest achievement in Arctic exploration was received here with great satisfaction. Captain Bartlett and the other officers and crew of the Roosevelt being Newfoundlanders, Sir William MacGregor, governor of Newfoundland, himself an explorer and geographer of world-wide reputation, wired his heartiest congratulations to Commander Peary.

Did a Cowardly Murder.

Pittsburg, Nov. 5.—On the eve of his departure for Italy to serve in the army Antonio Savinelli, 19 years of age, was shot and instantly killed by Colomantino Valentini, a companion, at Rankin, Pa., a suburb of this city. Following a trivial quarrel the murderer placed his arms about Savinelli's neck and then seeking forgiveness, and then suddenly fired two shots into his body.

U. S. Army Officer Has Yellow Jack.

Havana, Nov. 5.—Second Lieutenant Noble J. Wiley of the Fifth Infantry, was discovered on board the transport Summer with yellow fever and caused five hours delay in the departure of the vessel. He has been removed to the Animas hospital. His illness is diagnosed as yellow fever of a mild type.

Harahan a Candidate for President.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The Record-Herald says: "After an interview yesterday lasting several hours with J. T. Harahan, second vice president of the Illinois Central, President Fish said: 'Mr. Harahan is a candidate for the presidency of the Illinois Central road.'"

"Bill" Nye's Widow Dead.

New Orleans, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Edgar W. Nye, widow of the late "Bill" Nye, the famous humorist, is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Pharr, at Avoca plantation, near Morgan City. Mrs. Nye was 56 years old.

Fire Among Foot Ball Outfits.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—Sixty lockers and all the uniforms of the "Varsity" foot ball team were destroyed, and forty students were thrown into a panic by fire in the university school. Loss, $5,000. No one hurt.

Thirty-Nine Horses Cremated.

Pittsburg, Nov. 5.—Fire destroyed the livery stables of William Hamilton & Sons, 5307 Fifth avenue, east end, cremating thirty-nine horses and burning thirty-six carriages. The loss is about $80,000.

PLUNGED INTO A SALOON

Locomotive by Doing So Kills an Engineer and Brakeman—Frog the Primary Cause.

Rome, N. Y., Nov. 5.—A locomotive drawing an east-bound freight train on the Central railroad jumped the track here and plunged into a saloon at the corner of James street and the railroad. Engineer Albert Brown, of Little Falls, was caught in the wreckage and scalded to death. Brakeman Robert B. Vandervoort, of Albany, was crushed to death under the tender. Fireman Hugh L. Grover, of Syracuse, escaped through the cab window unhurt.

The wrecked engine was hauling a train of fifty loaded cars. At the station in this city the engineer received the signal to cross over to another track. At a frog the locomotive jumped the track and ran along the ground a distance of 125 feet, when it swerved and then plowed straight into the saloon, a two-story frame building.

BLACK HAND'S DASTARD WORK

Attempt at Blackmail Failing the Fiends Wreck Their Victim's House with Dynamite.

New York, Nov. 5.—Unsuccessful in their alleged attempts to blackmail Francisco Messina, a prosperous tailor of Brooklyn, members of the so-called "Black Hand" society, so the police say, hurled a dynamite bomb against the front door of the tenement house in which he lives and conducts his business, and caused damage of $3,000 to the building and surrounding property. Scores of persons felt the shock of the explosion, but no one was injured.

There was no doubt among the police that a deliberate attempt had been made by an organized band of blackmailers to wreak vengeance on Messina and his family. Following closely a half dozen similar outrages in the same neighborhood this attack has spread terror among the poorer Italians.

RAILWAYS DISCRIMINATING?

N. P. A. Says They Are Making Favorable Rates for the Standard Oil Company.

Cleveland, Nov. 5.—The National Petroleum association, which includes nearly all the leading independent oil producers, has forwarded to the railway commission a petition in which it is charged that about forty railroads in Ohio are discriminating in rates in favor of the Standard Oil company. The petition declares that "by reason of the excessive rates charged by the defendant common carriers the independents are greatly handicapped in marketing their commodities."

New Britain, Conn., Nov. 5.—An automobile which was being tested on a highway in Berlin left the road and H. Maxwell, of Farmington, was killed and William Keough, Michael Coleman, Joseph Hackley and A. L. Haver, the last named tester for an automobile concern in Hartford, were injured.

Bloody Battle in Africa.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The minister of the colonies has received a dispatch from the acting governor general of Free West Africa reporting an encounter Oct. 26 at Tidjikja, near Dakar between a detachment of tirailleurs and a band of Arabs. Many tirailleurs and 150 Arabs were killed.

PILLAR FALLS TO RUIN

Trusted Paragon of Virtue Goes the Way of Stensland on Smaller Scale.

HE MAKES AWAY WITH $20,000

His Wife, However, Comes to His Creditors' Rescue—Ex-Preacher Under Grave Charges.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Unsuccessful speculations in real estate, gold mines, and other uncertain business enterprises were revealed as the secret of the downfall of J. Christian Eskildsen, who, as supreme treasurer of the Danish Brotherhood of America, has disappeared, leaving a shortage of $20,000 of the society's funds. The case of Eskildsen is analogous in many respects to that of Paul O. Stensland, and is an additional example of a man looked upon by his countrymen and business associates as a paragon of virtue and "pillar of society."

How His Sin Was Found Out.

It also is a fact that Eskildsen, like Stensland, found it necessary to flee as a result of a change in the methods of inspecting accounts. At the last previous convention of the Danish Brotherhood the membership voted that in the future all funds in the hands of the supreme treasurer should be placed in the bank in the name of the society instead of, as heretofore, in the name of the treasurer. This was not done because of any suspicion against Eskildsen, who had served eighteen years as supreme treasurer, but simply as an improvement over the old system. In addition, the membership voted that no funds could be withdrawn from the bank in the future except on vouchers attested by the supreme president and supreme secretary.

Then Eskildsen Disappeared.

Eskildsen wrote on Oct. 20 a note to his wife, in which he declared he was ill and unable to face her after what has happened, saying he would go away for a few days. Since then he has not been seen. Many of his friends believe he is in Chicago, probably among friends, or at some private hospital.

Wife Is Doubly Faithful.

Through her attorney Mrs. Eskildsen has mortgaged $40,000 worth of property at Dania, Fla., a colony boomed by her husband. Eskildsen lost heavily in that enterprise and he lost several thousand dollars also in the recent storm in Cuba, where he had a large sugar and tobacco plantation. He lost nearly $8,000 in the wrecked Stensland bank. "The Danish brotherhood will not lose a cent by my husband's misfortune," said Mrs. Eskildsen. "I have mortgaged all of our property in Cuba and at Dania, Fla., and I shall mortgage our Chicago property, including my own home."

HE FONDLED A YOUNG GIRL

Ex-Preacher Accused of Kissing and Hugging a Child on the Street—He Denies.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 5.—Rev. Isaac G. Cook, ex-pastor of the Methodist church at Bartonville, a suburb of Peoria, has been arrested on the charge of kissing and hugging the 13-year-old daughter of Charles W. Robinson, vice president of the Glips Brewing company. The kissing and hugging, it is alleged, took place on Moss avenue, the exclusive and popular residence portion of the city.

The girl says she was followed out of a drug store by the ex-clergyman, who accosted her, hugged her, and repeatedly kissed her. On the description furnished by the girl her assailant was arrested and placed behind the bars. Cook denies the charge. The girl was accompanied by a little dog, and Cook admits that he stopped to fondle the family pet, but says he did not place his hands on the girl.

Leopold Confesses Nothing.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Leonard Leopold, who was brought back from Wausau, Wis., where he had been arrested for complicity in the murder of Mrs. Margaret Leslie, the actress, was submitted to a seven-hour police inquisition in Chief Collins' office, but refused to confess any participation in the murder of Mrs. Leslie. All he admitted was an attempt to get money on some of the jewels when requested to do so by Nicholas.

Shot to Death by a Thief.

Collinsville, Ill., Nov. 5.—Almost at his own doorstep Martin Fuchs, a farmer, was shot to death after a struggle with a man to prevent his hogs from being stolen. His own shotgun was used in killing him. John McMullen, a miner, talked so much about the killing after the body was found that he was arrested on suspicion. He denies that he was implicated in the crime.

Sounded Expensive.

POLITICAL TROUBLE.

Our friend, Wm. B. Brinton, is fully engaged every day in manufacturing plows, wagons, cultivators, etc., etc., and we believe is a very busy man in his attention to business. But the matter of making plows is a small one as compared to the strenuous life politically he has led for a day or two.

You see, as a sort of recreation, a relief from the monotony of business, he dabbles now and then in politics, just for amusement. He is a democrat of the true blue sort; and every day and all the time.

He does not take to democracy as a Missourian has the itch, at intervals during a few weeks in summer, but has his democracy during all seasons.

When United States marshal under President Cleveland he was at the head of Illinois politics and knows now all about the ins and outs of that branch of statecraft. But still he is so busy making gang plows that he has not time to run with the gang very much.

The Lee county democratic party has for years been all torn up with feuds and dissensions and as a movement in the line of reorganization and harmony and such things Mr. Brinton was appointed chairman of the county central committee and requested to straighten things out; and we understand that he is bringing order out of discord. A man with brains, nerve and patience who can harmonize the Lee county democrats has our sympathy, and admiration as well. They are a wild and woolly lot. But he is having political trouble of his own.

The democratic party was as badly split as a convention of anarchistic cranks; there was such a variety of them; silver democrats and gold democrats, populist, socialistic, Bryan democrats and Ryan democrats, and every other sort of istic and mystic democrats; and so to bring harmony in such a bunch Mr. Brinton was chosen chairman of the entire outfit. To give tone, character, dignity and respectability to such a gathering Mr. Brinton as chairman of the democratic meeting had become almost a necessity, and in fact his usefulness can be understood. Then it was that trouble opened up.

To become high muck-a-muck of the Lee county democracy was a task he did not fully appreciate, no doubt.

His political prominence resulted in much annoyance to him from news paper men. The writer hereof made a desperate effort to corral Mr. Brinton for an interview, but fortunately for him we were unable to find him.

However, several stupid republican and democratic newspaper interviewers did find him and wrote him up as only a reporter can, entirely in his own imagination, which often runs wild with vagaries. These reporters saw fit to speak for him as they wanted him to speak, not minding what Mr. Brinton really said. We do wish that our brothers of the press when giving interviews would print something near what the man interviewed said. But they will not do that, and all the advice we now have for Neighbor Brinton is that he had better keep entirely out of politics, devote his few hours of leisure to such amusement as the Lime Kiln club will furnish, where interviews come not, or perhaps—but we can not give a democrat advice.

When Mr. Brinton saw in the newspaper what was called an interview, giving supposed sayings of the democratic chairman, printing words that he never uttered, he at once proposed to block the game by publishing a fuller statement, to the effect that the aforesaid newspaper men were entirely too economical with truth to be considered gentlemen, and so the interview incident closed. Brinton is mad, and he has good reason for kicking vigorously.

Now, it would appear that the fun that Neighbor Brinton is procuring in politics is hardly worth the bother of paying political assessments, if he pays any, and clearly the trouble with newspaper interviewers neutralizes other political joys.

Knowing so well that some newspaper men are not as truthful as they should be, our sympathy goes out to even a man who is in politics only for the fun there is in it, but the joy is limited when he is touched by a newspaper interviewer.

When looking for Mr. Brinton for an interview we are now really pleased that we did not find him, for we can fully appreciate the peculiar feeling he naturally suffers for all interviewers.

Secretary Taft will now enjoy a little repose until there is a demand for peace in some other section of the hemisphere.

William C. Thompson will be elected clerk of Lee county at the election tomorrow. The republicans of this county feel that they can trust Mr. Thompson with the office and for that reason he had no opposition at the primaries. He is always ready to oblige the public, being kind and obliging to all alike. In the transaction of his official duties he has no particular friends, but all are treated by him with all due respect. Every republican will vote for Mr. Thompson.

W. C. T. U. OTHERS MEETING HELD SATURDAY

A large company of ladies, members and friends of the Frances Willard W. C. T. U., held a mothers' meeting in charge of Mrs. Charles C. McLean, at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Kay, 901 Hennepin avenue, Nov. 3rd. After the devotional exercises and an instrumental duet by Miss Van Ness and Mrs. Chessman, the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. A. P. McDonald, state lecturer and organizer of the W. C. T. U., was introduced to the company by Mrs. Julien.

Mrs. McDonald's address on "Social Purity," was a plea for that department of W. C. T. U. Work. She dealt with the subject in so tactful a manner, and yet so delicately and truthfully handled it that none but practical good can result from such straightforward speech.

It is needless to add that Mrs. McDonald was enthusiastically applauded at the close of her remarks. Those were fortunate who heard her also on Sunday morning in the Methodist church when she spoke on "Christian Statesmanship."

IS PUTTING BUSINESS BUILDING IN REPAIR

Mrs. E. H. Kent of Denver, who was called to this city by the illness of a relative, is making some repairs in the building on Galena avenue, near the bridge, which was formerly occupied by Barnett Bros. The building is a desirable business location and Mrs. Kent will have the interior remodeled and redecorated, and the exterior of the building will be put in first class condition. It is understood that several business firms have been after the building, but Mrs. Kent will disclose no information until the improvements are completed.

COMPTON WILL BE LOYAL TO REPUBLICAN TICKET

The republican rally held in the opera house at Compton Saturday evening brought the campaign there to a close and insured a good majority being returned for the entire republican ticket in that township. Compton's band kept things lively during the early evening and when the speaking commenced at the opera house it was crowded to its capacity. R. R. Tiffany of Freeport was unable to be present, and Judge R. H. Scott and Superintendent I. F. Edwards of this city were the speakers. They put up a stonewall argument that could not be touched by the democrats, and inasmuch as the voters of Compton have been too sensible to be influenced by the hot-air campaign which has been waged by the democrats there is no doubt of the way the vote will go there.

College Team in Sterling.

The Dixon College football team went to Sterling on the one o'clock interurban. They will play the fast Sterling High School team at that place this afternoon. The college team has been strengthened by a number of new players since their last game, and they expect to make a good showing.

"And others" is still a conspicuous part of the campaign speaking list.

Several ceremonies were necessary for the wedding of Miss Krupp, that was. Doubtless her husband does not care how many times she has to say yes.

We the undersigned teachers of Lee county now in active work wish to request all republicans interested in the welfare of the child, and we know that all republicans are so interested, to support I. F. Edwards for superintendent of schools and do what they can to induce their friends to do likewise. We have been associated with Mr. Edwards for years in the education of the child and know that he is sincere in his work and that he has the welfare of the child uppermost in his mind. In his treatment toward his teachers he is kind and obliging. To the young and inexperienced teacher he is patient and always willing to extend a helping hand and assist in relieving the troubles and difficulties which are bound to come up in the daily work of the young teacher.

We are women and can not vote for Mr. Edwards, but we can call attention of all men who are interested in school matters to do all that can be done to see that Mr. Edwards gets the full republican vote tomorrow.

When we state that Mr. Edwards should be elected to the head of the schools of Lee county for another four years, we express the sentiments of every teacher, true to his or her calling, now engaged in teaching the child.

STRONG SUPPORT PROMISED IN HARMON

Candidates Edwards and Scott Reply to Criticisms and Are Earnestly Commended

County Judge R. H. Scott and Superintendent of Schools I. F. Edwards cinched things for the republican party at Harmon Friday evening, and there is no doubt that that township will return a big majority for the entire republican ticket. Although the meeting was advertised but twenty-four hours before it was held, something over a hundred of the interested voters, many of them democrats, were in attendance, and the political gospel which the two popular candidates handed out settled the question in the minds of the auditors. The speakers showed by figures and official record that the administration had been good in every particular, and they turned the arguments advanced by the opposition back to their sources.

Present in the audience was Thos. Long, democratic supervisor from Harmon, and Judge Scott presented his arguments and called on the supervisor for verification, and in every instance it was given.

After the meeting the voters crowded around the candidates and from every side came assurance of support.

Was Accidentally Killed.

William J. Wilson, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rueland of this city, was accidentally killed near Rawlins, Wyo., October 19th. Mr. Wilson was agent for the Singer Sewing Machine company. He leaves a wife, mother and three children.

Voliva says that Mrs. Dowie is responsible for the downfall of the first apostle, as she induced him to spend money. Just as though Lige had to be coaxed.

OIL AND COAL STRUCK IN HARMON?

CITIZENS ARE EXCITED OVER DEPOSITS FROM CITY
WELL DRILL.

NUMEROUS HALLOWE'EN PRANKS

Property Owners Spend a Day Collecting Their Effects—Politics Claim Some Attention.

Harmon, Ill., Nov. 5—Harmon has struck oil! Harmon has a coal mine! These two sentences were passed around the community late Saturday afternoon and everybody had one of these two questions fired at him in an excited manner: Have you seen the oil? Have you seen the coal mine? Where? was the next question. Down at the park where they are drilling the well.

From three to four o'clock the space about the new well was occupied by people from Missouri. They were shown where a dark colored oil had accumulated at the top of the refuse taken from the bore. Perhaps a gill could be collected out of each bucket five feet in length and four inches in diameter. Natives of the oil regions of Northwestern Pennsylvania pronounced it petroleum.

Out of every bucket was obtained several pieces of coal and shale, from the size of a bean to an inch and a half square. And it is genuine coal, obtained at a depth of about 157 feet.

Quite a number of people accused some practical joker of dropping coal into the hole, but Contractor Stultz states that to be an impossibility, as the top of the pipe is covered every time he leaves it and a weight of 1500 pounds is placed on top of the lid.

Everybody has the smile that won't come off, and are saying how good a thing it will be for Harmon if oil or coal is struck.

The village well for water purposes has been sunk to a depth of between one hundred and fifty and a hundred and sixty feet. Water stands in the pipe, which is five inches internal diameter, to a depth of seventy-five feet. So far no rock nor bed of gravel has been reached. Because of this, notwithstanding there may be plenty of water on hand, the drilling will be continued until those in charge are satisfied of the adequacy of supply as well as the purity of the water obtained.

The progress made by the contractor, Mr. Stultz, has been slow, as a large part of the distance the well has been sunk has been through a blue clay, and drilling through that is like pounding a hole through a piece of India rubber an inch thick with a hammer. Occasionally small nigger-heads are struck. These can not be pulverized by the drill, imbedded as they are in clay, so they can be gotten rid of only by pounding at them long enough to push them aside. That no gravel or rock have been reached is a surprise to the local wiseacres.

Hallowe'en Pranks.

As is the case every 31st of October, the young people of Harmon enjoyed themselves last Wednesday evening. The damage done was slight considering the amount of fun the boys must have had.

Frank H. Kugler found on arrival at his store Thursday morning at the usual time that before he could gain an entrance he had to remove all the empty boxes in town, besides a large pile of brush.

Uncle J. M. McCulloch's entrance to his place of business was barred by a pile of old tinware, hardware and other debris piled to half the height of the door.

Brill & Conner's wagon was drawn to the village park, turned up side down, tool chests broken and their contents scattered over the landscape. A die worth $3 was lost besides the breaking of their wagon box.

At the entrance to the Neola Elevator company's office was stacked a miscellaneous assortment of barbed, chicken and other wire, which had been carried from H. J. Durr's yard. No damage.

Thinking Contractor Stultz is in need of an office these chilly days, the boys moved A. A. Kelchner's out-house to the village park and set it up a few feet from Mr. Stultz's well drill, but that gentleman refused to accept the courtesy of the boys because the office was not modern, it had no telephone connection. Mr. Kelchner hired a team and hauled his property to its former location. Damages, twenty-five cents and a lot of hard work.

Frank Hettinger's coal house, in which W. P. Mellinger had his winter's supply of fuel stored, was upset, and in its overthrow the floor was torn out. Damage not yet exactly ascertained, but estimated at about two dollars.

Very little depredation was done in the residence portion of the village.

Taken all together, it was a very quiet Hallowe'en, the boys evidently heeding the admonition to do no serious damage.

Hear Politics Discussed.

Considering the busy season and that there was a telephone meeting Friday night, there was a large crowd at the republican rally to hear County Superintendent Edwards and Judge Scott refute the mud slinging attacks made upon them at the democratic meeting the evening of October 27th. There were 106 people present, sixteen of whom were ladies. There were quite a large number of democrats among the auditors, and no doubt much good was done the gentlemen who spoke, as well as the whole republican ticket.

Harmon township is democratic, and the prediction among the followers of that faith is that one democrat will be elected to a county office, and to accomplish that result any old trade to secure one democratic vote will be considered.

The meeting was an extraordinary one for Harmon, or any other community, because everybody seemed interested and the closest attention was paid the speakers throughout.

Telephone Meeting Called.

There was a well attended meeting of those interested in the Green River Telephone company. Steps, the most important yet taken, were started, and it now begins to look as if this community would soon enjoy improved telephone service.

Another meeting will be held on Tuesday evening while election returns are coming in. All interested should turn out.

Harmon Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sweet and John Behrendt returned Friday from a two weeks' visit with relatives at Mr. Sweet in and near Coffeyville, Kansas. This is Mr. Sweet's first visit west in fourteen years and the improvement of the country in that time seems incredible to Mr. Sweet.

Misses Julia and Marie Conlon will spend the end of the week holidays in Sterling.

Superintendent Edwards, Judge Scott, Messrs. Crabtree and Munn were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kugler Friday evening.

Daniel Swartz of Sterling was here Friday improving his property.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McCarter were in Dixon Saturday.

Mrs. B. F. Swab returned home from Dixon Saturday.

OFFER MADE IN POLO SPEECH

Will Also Resign as a Candidate or From Office of Congressman if This Is Proven.

Polo, Nov. 2—Last night Col. F. O. Lowden threw a bomb into the camp of the enemy when he made the statement that he was no longer a director or was connected in any way with certain large institutions, namely the National Biscuit company and the Pullman Car company, as is charged by his opponent, James P. Wilson, and other democratic speakers. Colonel Lowden reiterated the statement that he had ceased to have any connection with these organizations and then stated that he would be glad to have the citizens of Polo appoint a committee of republicans, democrats or both to make an investigation into these statements, and stated that if it should transpire that he had not told the truth in regard to his relations with these companies he would present the sum of $10,000 to the city of Polo for use in the relief of the poor or charity of any kind. He further said that if it should be proven that he is connected with any of the concerns as charged, before the election takes place, he will instantly resign as a candidate for the office, and that if the investigation should show this to be a fact after he had been elected he will immediately resign from the office as congressman from the Thirteenth district from Illinois.

The answer on the part of Colonel Lowden called forth thunders of cheers from his friends in the audience.

The meeting last evening was one of the most enthusiastic that has been held in this part of the district. The opera house was filled nearly to its capacity and the speaker was cheered again and again during the course of his speech.

DIXON CLUB WILL RECEIVE ELECTION RETURNS

At the business session of the Dixon club Friday night the following officers were elected: President, Dr. Bokhoff; vice president, O. H. Martin; secretary, C. E. Chandler; treasurer, C. A. Todd; directors, H. C. Higgins, T. A. Craig and Carroll Hall. A smoker was held after the election.

The election returns will be received at the club rooms Tuesday night.

An Off Year Warning To Republicans

SUN PUBLISHERS ASK CONTINUANCE

CASE TRIED BEFORE ELECTION.

CASE WILL BE CALLED NOV. 22

Both Defendants Placed Under Bonds to Answer the Charge of Criminal Libel.

The case against Theodore and Edward Fuller for criminal libel, on which charge they were arrested Saturday afternoon, will not be tried until November 22nd. The delay, which was occasioned by the attorneys for the prisoners, is disappointing to many, but it certainly shows the utter insincerity of the Fullers, when they published the statement that they were sorry "the case could not be tried before election on Tuesday."

They were certainly given every opportunity to make that bluff good when Mr. Merriman had them arrested on the charge of criminal libel. But the Fullers had not expected the opportunity when they made the statement, and they backed down most ingloriously.

The attorneys, Brooks and Barge, appeared for the defendants when the case was called before Justice Leech Saturday afternoon and States Attorney Wooster and Attorneys Bardwell, Brewster and Cryor appeared for the state and Mr. Merriman.

Mr. Wooster wanted to try the case today (Monday) and so did Mr. Merriman's lawyers. But not so with the defendants. They probably dreaded the influence it would have on the election. They asked and fought hard for a continuance, and inasmuch as the statutes of the state provide for such a procedure, the Fullers got away with their grand stand. They were placed under bonds of $100, which they furnished themselves.

DIXON SUN HAS

Boasted $100 Deposit Has Not Been Placed in the Bank—Charges Are All a Bluff.

In another particular the Dixon Sun has failed to make good. In another instance they have been given a chance to back up the bluffs they have made through the columns of that paper, and in the same instance they have failed.

Money talks. When John M. Sterling came out with his offer to give $100 to the Dixon hospital if any irregularity could be found in the accounts of the county treasurer during his administration, the Sun backed down.

INSTEAD OF LIVING UP TO THE GREAT PRINCIPLE OF AMERICANISM THAT EVERY MAN IS INNOCENT UNTIL HE IS PROVEN GUILTY, the Sun tried to adopt the UNJUST PRINCIPLE THAT EVERY MAN IS GUILTY UNTIL PROVEN INNOCENT. They sidestepped Mr. Sterling's offer. Instead they offered to give $100 if "Mr. Sterling can substantiate the falsity of any of the Sun's charges."

But Mr. Sterling called the bluff. He deposited his $100 and waited for the Sun to do likewise. He has waited in vain. For at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon not one penny of their money had been deposited at the Dixon National bank to back up their bluff.

The Sun has backed up on every bluff they have made during the campaign, and the people are realizing, by their failure to make good in these respects, THAT YOU CAN'T FOOL ALL THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME.

ber of the legislature? Of all the numerous interrogations put to the speaker, this was the only one he answered. It was a matter of less importance than any of the other questions, and therefore most easily answered. He said he had passes, and as a justification for this favor from these corporations he named a number of the republican members of the legislature, Messrs. Hughes, Mitchell, Guffin and others, who enjoyed free rides upon the railroads.

We can reasonably reply that the republicans named are not boasting of a desire for an opportunity to wipe out railroad corporations in that earnest and enthusiastic manner characteristic of democratic orators, including Mr. Wilson. We do not claim that there is anything criminal in riding on a free pass. If we were conducting a democratic newspaper, or if we talked after the manner of a democratic orator, we might suggest that when Mr. Wilson rides to and from Springfield on a free pass, that is, pays no fare, he should not charge mileage for rides that he does not pay for. A man with railroad passes is as much under obligations to favor railway legislation as a man who is a director of any company. If honest and fair a man will reciprocate a favor. Claiming to be a great and good reformer who desires to go to congress for the purpose of busting up railroad corporations and make a law severely punishing bribers, he should not touch the railroad pass bribe, as he confesses to have done. That is all.

As Mr. Wilson said in his speech Saturday night that he "did not care what editors, who write editorials for money, say" about him, we imagine that he also does not care what editors who write editorials for fun, as we do, say about him. If we have ever in all our life received pay for any political editorials written for The Telegraph, we have not yet seen the ducats. We have, however, only regret for the speaker who could make such an ungentelemanly and unkind remark. However, he is forced to make some sort of an excuse for refusing to answer the questions The Telegraph laid before him to answer.

We desired in all kindness to give Mr. Wilson an opportunity to modify the insulting remarks he made in a former speech against the employees of our factories. A man who would insult the laboring people of Dixon because they voted the republican ticket is not entitled to the vote of a Dixon republican or any other laboring people, for that matter.

Mr. Wilson stated in his speech that The Telegraph had charged that he had never voted for a republican measure. He is very much in error in this statement. We stated that he had probably never in all his life voted for a republican for office above that of a township collector.

When Mr. Wilson stated in a speech that the republican boodlers of the legislature squandered the people's money, causing large taxes, we gave his record as a legislator which clearly demonstrated that he had voted for every appropriation that he claimed was squandering the people's money; thus showing that he was a party to the bad legislation.

We desired to show that Mr. Wilson's charge that the legislature had squandered the people's money was unfair, as he had been a party to the extravagance.

Mr. Wilson in his speech Saturday evening made much ado about his kind treatment by republicans at Springfield. Speaker Sherman called him to his desk and requested him to take the chairmanship of a certain committee, and other republicans flattered him with kindness and attention.

And now it occurs to us that a man should always remember a favor in some sort of reciprocal terms. That is the leading characteristic of a gentleman. When Mr. Wilson returned from Springfield after such kindness had been rendered him he made a speech here in Dixon stating that the republicans who had treated him so kindly were boodlers who were squandering the people's money by reckless legislation. His statement in that matter was not only untrue, but it was an exhibition of ingratitude that is incomprehensible to us, coming to us from a man who talks eloquently as does Mr. Wilson upon the subject of fairness.

Mr. Wilson talks touchingly of fair treatment in making a great ado about his being charged with voting for the Allen bill, but says not a word about the quick correction The Telegraph made the next day, when it found that the records had been erroneously copied.

He is quite pathetic about his own political troubles and touchingly deplores the lack of fairness between "man and man," and then follows this sweet talk with most rank abuse of his competitor, Colonel Lowden, misrepresenting the colonel's business connections and otherwise basely slandering the colonel.

Jim's Peroration.

The Woosung orator closed his speech with what was considered by his democratic listeners in the galleries as a masterly touch of oratorical flourish. He intended it, no doubt, as a sort of peroration. Perorations do not require any very great amount of logic, thought or common sense. Any sort of an old jumble of high sounding words will make a most rare and excellent peroration, my master. It is strange to contemplate just how much delight people can take in the sound of the human voice, if the human speaks with a proper vim and saws the air vigorously at a lively rate with his arms.

Orator James P. Wilson closed his speech Saturday night with one of the most pathetic and startling perorations that ever came over the Woosung-Dixon pike. We give the first few lines as a specimen of what he can do when he turns himself loose on oratory. Here it is:

"LET US RISE IN OUR MIGHT AND ROLL BACK THE CLOUD OF HUMAN EQUALITY AND CLEAR IT AWAY FROM THE FACE OF GOD."

There, now, as a peroration, wouldn't that jar the imitation cherries on your grandmother's hat!

Perhaps it is well right here to explain to the well disposed, matter-of-fact, and well meaning democrats, who listened with amazement to Mr. Wilson's oratory, that this peroration was an allegorical flourish. He did not mean to any great extent to convey the idea that there was really anything the matter with the face of God, by reason of any clouded appearance, or tendency to become soiled.

The face of the Mighty Ruler of the universe is really all right, and you should not permit oratorical hyalutin to disturb your equanimity in regard to the matter, especially at this time—just before election, and thereby cause you to forget to mark the head of your ballot with a well defined cross.

At this point in the proceedings at that democratic demonstration it was unwise, inexpedient and entirely out of order for the small boy to shout out: "Turn on the hose." We do not imagine that Mr. Wilson himself believes the face of the Lord really has anything the matter with it for reasons of lack of cleanliness.

Rest assured, Mr. Democrat, that the mystic cloud will clear away on election day, all right, regardless of "human equality," or any other race proposition. The Great Ruler of the universe is quite able to clear away any obstruction from his own face.

Mr. Wilson does not, we must insist, wish to be understood as stating a literal fact—he was not on that occasion dealing in anything of the sort—but simply promulgating a few figures of speech.

The dictionary may explain that a real peroration is the summing up of a speech; re-urging of the principal topic of a discourse, but the Woosung orator could not have really intended his grandiloquent peroration for any such thing as a resume of his talk.

We so judge on account of the fact that his long-winded talk he said not a word to lead us for a moment to imagine that the face of God was in any sort of a clouded condition with "human equality" or anything else.

There was no intimation that we the people must needs rise up in our might and clean the face of God. That idea was left for the beautifully eloquent close—the peroration.

If Mr. Wilson should at any time in the great future, when this district becomes absurdly democratic, be sent to congress, we hope he will take this peroration with him. He need not have it copyrighted, as it will keep a long time without fear of its being stolen.

Wouldn't it, though, be a proud day for Illinois could we have our representative's clarion voice ring through the halls of our nation that startling declaration:

"Let us rise in our might and roll back the cloud of human equality from the face of God."

That would quickly bring down the house—in fact, both houses of congress—and cause amazement to flow like a river of light down Pennsylvania avenue.

We can now see, in our mind's eye, the statue of Washington, that has so long remained quietly in dignified marble seated in front of the capitol, suddenly move in ecstasy, hold its sides from bursting with laughter and actually roll from its pedestal; and the marble figure of Patrick Henry in statuary hall would poke its cane into the sides of Daniel Webster in sheer good humor; and John Randolph would propose an amendment to Wilson's speech, in effect that the words "let us rise—" insert "upon our hind legs," etc.

We may presume that many democrats, who listened to the Woosung orator, now have boundless faith that the democratic candidate could, if he were permitted to, "rise up in his might," and dispel a cloud from the face of God.

Perhaps it would, we insist, be well to again explain to any democrat present that evening that Jeems was speaking in an allegorical sense—through his hat, as they would put it—and did not really mean that there was anything whatever the matter with the face of an All Wise Providence. There is no real cloud, nor anything else to obscure his vision; His face being really clean and free there is no need of rolling back anything. "Human equality" is also all right; and Jeems does not really care a tinker's dam about it anyway, except for oratorical spurges.

The Woosung orator has made a sort of bluff; indulged in an effort to frighten and befuddle Dixon democrats.

When the Woosung statesman again appears in Dixon for the purpose of giving our people an oratorical feast it is hoped that he will bring that peroration with him. However, we have a verbatim copy from which we may make further extracts when our readers have recovered from the great mental strain of the bit of peroration here presented.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The revival services began yesterday at the Christian church with a favorable outlook and the audiences at both the morning and evening services were large. In the morning Rev. Peters outlined the campaign, emphasizing the necessity of a deeper spiritual life, of the importance of enlarging the departments of church work and reaching the unsaved of Dixon.

The evening theme was on "The New Name" and bore out the sacredness of the name "Christian." This name all should wear. A watchword of the Christian church was presented as showing the stand this body takes on the name, which every man ought to honor in his life. "Not the only Christians, but Christians only."

The theme for this evening will be "The Unfolded Gospel," and tomorrow evening "The Great Salvation." Next Sunday evening Mr. Peters will deliver an address on "The Church and the Lodge, or Does Lodge Membership Fit a Man for Heaven?"

No one has yet come so near playing Joshua in arresting the Sun as did Sheriff Wohnke Saturday afternoon when he stopped both of its publishers.

EDITOR HEARST A PUBLIC PERIL

Denounced by Secretary Root as a Self-Seeking Demagogue.

STYLED AS ASSASSIN BREEDER

Teachings of Candidate Declared to Have Inspired McKinley's Murder.

Secretary Root Speaks at Utica, N. Y. and His Utterance Are With Authority of the President.

He Also Points Out the Necessity of Upholding President Roosevelt's Policy by Electing a Republican House.

The people of the state of New York were told what President Roosevelt thinks of William Randolph Hearst.
Secretary of State Root, in a speech at Utica, avowing that he spoke with the authority of President Roosevelt, arranged Hearst as the instigator of the assassination of William McKinley.
He quoted from President Roosevelt's first message to congress that passage referring to the assassin of McKinley as a man "inflamed by the reckless ut-

ELIHU ROOT.

terances of those who on the stump and in the public press, appeal to the dark and evil spirits of malice and greed, envy and sullen hatred."

"I say by the president's authority," said Secretary Root, "that in penning these words, with the horror of President McKinley's murder fresh before him, he had Mr. Hearst specifically in his mind.

"And I say by his authority," added the secretary of state, "that what he thought of Mr. Hearst then he thinks of Mr. Hearst now."

Strips Audience by Appeal.

The secretary's speech aroused his audience to the highest pitch of excitement and enthusiasm. At one point he exclaimed, amid a great outburst of applause and cheering:

"Do you believe in President Roosevelt? If you do, then help him with your votes. I say to you, with his authority, that he greatly desires the election of Mr. Hughes as governor of the state of New York. I say to you with his authority that he regards Mr.
Hearst as wholly unfit to be governor, as an insincere, self-seeking demoagogue, who is trying to deceive the workmen of New York by false statements and false promises; and I say to you with his authority that he considers that Mr. Hearst's election would be an injury and a discredit alike to honest labor and to honest capital, and a serious injury to the work in which he is engaged of enforcing just and equal laws against corporate wrongdoing."

Hearst "Insincere Demagogue."

Never in the history of New York politics has an audience listened to so withering a denunciation of a candidate as that administered to Hearst by the secretary of state.

In calm, measured tones, without feeling, without sign of anger, without malice, the premier of President Roosevelt's cabinet held Hearst up to the scorn of his fellow men as an "insincere, self-seeking demagogue," as a "worthless public servant," as the partner of Tammany in an effort to steal the judiciary "through as shameful a deal as ever disgraced the political history of the state."

The secretary denounced Hearst as a man who is "sowing the seeds of dis-ension and strife and hatred throughout the land," as a man who would "array labor against capital and capital against labor, poverty against wealth and wealth against poverty. With bitter and vindictive feeling, he would destroy among the great mass of our people that kindly and friendly spirit, that consideration for the interests and rights of others, that brotherhood of citizenship, which is essential to the peaceful conduct of free popular government."

Root's Speech Scathing.

Secretary Root's speech was divided into two parts. In his denunciation of Hearst he said:

"What evidence has Mr. Hearst produced of his fitness for this office?
"Of his private life I shall not speak, further than to say that from no community in this state does there come concerning him that testimony of lifelong neighbors and acquaintances of his private virtues, the excellence of his morals, the correctness of his conduct, which we should like to have concerning the man who is to be made governor of our state.

"What evidence comes from his public career? He has been a member of congress from New York city. He owed his office to Tammany organization and Tammany votes. He represented a Tammany district, but he has been an absolute cipher in congress.
That is his entire public career.

What Is Known of Him.

"He really is known to us solely as a young man, rich by inheritance, who has become the owner of a number of sensational, yellow journals; he has taken in his newspapers the popular side upon all questions relating to labor and corporations and has sustained it by violent denunciations and many falshoods. He has been a persistent seeker for office on the strength of taking the popular side. He has published whatever he thought would please the working people for the purpose of getting the labor vote. It is difficult to believe the hard headed, shrewd workmen of America will give him much credit for that.

"There is, however, affirmative evidence of Hearst's unfitness for the great office of governor. You will perceive that to remedy corporate wrong, for which he offers himself, two things are necessary—first, intelligent, well devised legislation, which shall strip from the wrongdoing of corporate managers the advantage of law made under their influence to facilitate their practices, which shall clearly prohibit their wrongful acts and which shall provide the machinery and procedure and necessary agencies for enforcing those laws. Secondly, the judicial enforcement of laws, which requires upright and courageous judges who will administer the laws without fear or favor, uninfluenced by wealth, or by popularity, or by personal friends, or by political bosses.

"Underlying both of these and necessary to both is political purity, for without that neither legislature nor the courts can be pure.

Marked With Tammany's Brand.

"How stands Mr. Hearst's record as to political purity? Why, he comes to us covered all over with the mark of Tammany and Tammany's leader, Murphy, whom he himself has denounced as a scoundrel and a thief.
He comes to us, not answering to the call of the people of the state, not as the honest candidate of the Democratic party of the state, but nominated by his own procurement, through as shameful a deal with the boss of Tammany as ever disgraced the political history of the state—a deal under which the great body of regularly elected delegates to the Democratic convention was unseated in their absence and the nomination of Mr.
Hearst made by the solid vote of the Tammany delegation.

"Can hypocrisy go further than this willing beneficiary of Tammany Hall preaching political purity?

Is a Cipher in Congress.

"How stands his record as a legislator? He has had an opportunity to prove his capacity and sincerity in that field. Representatives are sent to congress to attend to business of the country. There are hundreds of members of both parties working upon that every day of every session in the performance of their duty. The interests of the country cannot be cared for in any other way. Mr. Hearst was sent to congress to do that. He had an opportunity then to show how much sincerity there was in all the talk in his newspapers about reforms and, better government.

"What did he do? Why, he did nothing. During the three years he has been in congress that body has been in session 467 days. There have been 185 recorded votes by yea and nay. He was present and voting at but twenty-three, present without voting at two, leaving 160 of 185 roll calls from which he was absent, and 422 out of 467 days of the legislative session when there is no evidence of his presence.

"His voice was heard in that congress for those three years but once, that for ten minutes in a personal matter regarding an article published in the New York American. He did not even contribute a motion to adjourn to the business in congress.

Took Money He Didn't Earn.

"He is so rich that the $15,000 paid him for that neglected service may seem of no consequence, but no honest poor man would have thought it right to take it. Others doubtless did the work Mr. Hearst was sent to Washington to do, but it is of public interest to know that this man, who offers himself for a great public office on the strength of what he printed in his newspaper about legislative reforms and the duties of others, totally failed to perform his own duty and proved a worthless public servant in a legislative office—the only office he ever held.

"How does he stand regarding the courts? There, indeed, if he is to be taken at his own estimate, he should be found inflexible. An independent judiciary should be his dearest hope.
As to this he has had great opportunity, for this is an exceptional year in judicial elections. Ten new justices of the supreme court are to be elected in the city of New York. How has he used his new political power concerning them? Why, he has made another bargain with Murphy, under which Murphy has named six of them, while Hearst has named only four.

"Six justices of the supreme court named by Charles F. Murphy, the boss of Tammany Hall, by agreement with William R. Hearst, the self-declared reformer. If he thus delivers the power over courts to the man whom he declares to be a thief and a scoundrel for the sake of getting votes for the governorship, what would he, as governor, do for the sake of getting votes for the presidency?

Hearst a Corporation Himself.

"His own corporate management shows the insincerity of his professions. Not only does he conduct his extensive newspaper business through corporations but he has established separate corporations for his separate newspapers and then established a holding corporation to hold the stock of these separate corporations. Mr. Hughes has plainly shown that he has juggled with these different incorporations to escape his just share of public taxation and to hinder and defeat the prosecution of just claims against him.

"It is seldom, indeed, a man so young, whose public career has been so brief, so small a portion of whose life is known at all to the public, has furnished such convincing proofs of his unfitness for office.

"But the worst of Hearst is that,
with his great wealth, with his great newspapers, with his army of paid agents, and for his own selfish purposes, he has been, day by day and year by year, sowing the seed of dissension, strife, and hatred throughout our land. He would array labor against capital and capital against labor, poverty against wealth and wealth against poverty. With bitter, vindictive feeling, he would destroy among the great mass of our people that kindly, friendly spirit, that consideration of the interests and rights of others, that brotherhood of citizenship, which is so essential to the peaceful conduct of a free popular government. He would destroy that respect for law, that love of order, that confidence in our free institutions, which are the basis at once of true freedom and true justice.

Poisons the Alien Mind.

"The malignant falsehoods of these journals, read by the immigrant in his new home, where none can answer them, makes him hate the people who have welcomed him to liberty and prosperity, abundant employment, ample wages, education for his children, independence for his manhood such as he never had known before.

"It is not calm, lawful redress of wrongs which he seeks. It is the turmoil of inflamed passions and the terrorism of revengeful force. He spreads the spirit, he follows the methods, he is guided by the selfish motives of a revolutionist. He would plunge our peaceful land into turmoil, discord, and perpetual conflict out of which the republics of South America happily are now passing.

Proof in Hearst's Paper.

"Does any one question the justice of these statements? Then let him turn to the pages of the newspapers through the ownership of which Hearst is pressing his political fortunes.

"What public servant honored by the people's trust has not been assailed with vile and vulgar epithets? What branch of our free government has he not taught his readers to be the corrupt agency of oppression? Listen to this from the New York Journal:

It is the sad duty of the Journal to announce to the people of the United States that their president, William Mc-Kinley, has deliberately tricked congress and the country.

McKinley and his Wall street cabinet are ready to surrender every particle of national honor and dignity.
Congress and the people of the United States have been fooled, tricked, and deceived from beginning to end.

Assault on Pure Elections.

"And to this:
The board of elections has already begun its disgraceful, discreditable work.
It allowed the people's petitions intrusted to its care to be marked, mutilated, and destroyed. It has thrown out petitions by the score. Its action has been sustained by courts, even as courts last year decided you, as citizens, had no right to have your votes honestly counted, but must abide by any returns, no matter how false, of corrupt election officials.

And to this:

Effort is being made now by criminal trusts to crush out the power of the people of the American government. These trusts control your parties, control your primarys, control your public offices, deny your right to say the government that will express the popular will. You are deserted and betrayed by public officials that should sustain you, by the so-called free press that should support you.

His Abuse of Public Men.

Secretary Root then gave the following list of well known men who had been subjected to Hearst's abuse, together with the epithets applied to them:

JOSEPH H. CHOATE, leader of the American bar, whose honored, distinguished career has known the world over, and who has been the pride of all true Americans, is stigmatized as a "servile lickspittle of the corporations."

FULTON CUTTING, ideal citizen, leader of philanthropy and independent politics, as a "worthless noodle." EDWARD M. SHEPARD, foremost advocate of civic virtue in the Democratic politics of New York city, as a "corporation lawyer."

WILLIAM T. JEROME, Democrat of independence above all others, as a "political Crogan bug."

TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF, twice elected lieutenant governor of this state, chairman of the Republican state committee, as standing "for everything rotten in Republican politics."

CHARLES A. TOWNE, radical congressman, as "a rat."

RICHARD WATSON GILDER, leader of tenement house reform in New York, as having "no more manliness than an apple blossom."

THOMAS TAGGART, chairman of the Democratic national committee, as "a plague spot in the community, spreading villainy."

SECRETARY BONAPARTE, as "a cab horse—a snob."

SENATOR KNOX, the attorney general, who brought and won the suit against the Northern Securities company, as having "coal trust guilt for a pillow."

GEORGE B. MCLELLAN, congressman, mayor of New York, worthy heir of an honored name, as a "fraud mayor," an "office thief," and "the dead cat in the city hall."

ALTON B. PARKER, former chief justice of the state, candidate of the Democratic party for the presidency, as "a cockroach, a waterbug."

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS, leader of the Democratic party in the house of representatives, as "a railroad attorney."

JOSEPH G. CANNON, speaker of the house of representatives, an honest, plain, typical American, as being
"as little scrupulous in politics as a fox in a barnyard."

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS, vice president of the United States, as "a Wall street speculator."

Characterization of John Hay.

JOHN HAY, the great secretary of state, the cherished friend of Lincoln, a noble, pure, virile American, a lover of his country and his kind, whose authorship adorned our literature, whose wise, strong statesmanship lifted to higher power the prestige of America throughout the world, is described as "a guy in a ruff and a red coat."

THOMAS B. REED, the great speaker of the house, is addressed:
"You divide McKinley's infamy with him and so make his load easier. By the same token you have become a toad to the public eye; you grow to be looked upon as a thing loathsome;
your name becomes a hissing and a reproach; your deeds are a stench in the nostrils of men."

GROVER CLEVELAND, twice president of the United States, is described as "no more, no less, than a living, breathing crime in breeches."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, president of the United States, is called "a loose tongued demagogue," "a woman killer," "a flagrant tax dodger," "a player to the colored gallery," "a man with caste feeling" one who "has sold himself to the devil and will live up to the bargain."

Attacks on McKinley.

"Only once has this method of incendiary abuse wrought out its natural consequence—in the murder of President McKinley. For years, by vile epithet and vile cartoons, the readers of the New York Journal were taught to believe that McKinley was a monster in human form, whose taking off would be a service to mankind. Let me quote some of these teachings:

McKinley condones the treacherous murder of our sailors at Havana and talks of his confidence in the honor of Spain. He plays the coward and shivers, white faced, at the footfall of approaching war. He makes an international cur of his country. He is an abject, weak, feeble, incompetent poltroon.
McKinley, bar one girthy Princeton person who came to be no more or less than a living, breathing crime in breeches, is therefore the most despised and hated creature on this hemisphere.
His name is hoisted, his figure burned in effigy."

The bullet that pierced Goebel's chest cannot be found in all the west:
Good reason, it is speeding here
To stretch McKinley on his bier.

Defense of Assassination.

"And this in April, 1901: Institutions, like men, will last until they die. If bad institutions and bad men can be got rid of only by killing, then killing must be done.

"And this in June, 1901:
There has been much assassination in the world, from the assassination of some old rulers, who needed assassination to the assassination of men in England who, driven to steal by hunger, were caught and hanged most legally.

Is there any doubt that the assassination of Marat by Charlotte Corday changed history to some extent? What proof is there that France would have settled down into imperial Napoleonism and prosperity if Marat, the wonderful eye doctor, had been allowed to live and retain his absolute mastery of the Paris population?

If Cromwell had not resolved to remove the head of Charles I. from his lace collar, would England be what she is today—a really free nation, a genuine republic?

Did not the murder of Lincoln, uniting in sympathy and regret all good people north and south, hasten the era of American good feeling and perhaps prevent the renewal of fighting between brothers?

The murder of Caesar certainly changed the history of Europe, besides preventing that great man from ultimately displaying a vanity as great as his ability.

When the wise old sayings, such as that of Disraeli about assassination, are taken up it is worth while, instead of swallowing them whole, to analyze them.
We invite our readers to think over this question. Time devoted to it will not be wasted.

Effect on Czolgosz's Mind.

"What wonder that the weak, excite-able brain of Czolgosz answered such impulses as these. He never knew McKinley; he had no real or fancied wrongs of his own to avenge against McKinley or McKinley's government.

He was answering to the lesson he had learned, that it would be a service to mankind to rid the earth of a monster; and foremost of the teachers of these lessons to him and his kind was,
and is, William Randolph Hearst with his yellow journals.

"The offense was deepened by Hearst's revolting hypocrisy, which,
to avert public indignation when the fatal blow had been struck, and that strong, gentle spirit had departed, lauded the dead president to the skies and said of him in the New York Journal:

Nowhere in the history of great men's lives or great men's deaths can be found such resignation, such deep religious faith as marked the last hours of William McKinley. He faced the other world and the other life with the quiet, confident hope of a man who had done his best. Slowly his heart's strength died out. It had carried him through two wars, through many political battles, through many long days of toil, through many years of hard work of serious purpose. He began life as a simple Christian citizen. He worked hard.
He interested himself in his country's welfare. He succeeded. He reached the highest place in the nation. He exercised and represented the greatest earthly powers. He was called a second time to the highest position that men can give to any man. He ended his life as he began it—a simple Christian citizen.

Is McKinley So Soon Forgotten?

"Is there no one left who loved Mc-Kinley? Are there any workmen in New York who can see with satisfaction honors heaped upon the man who is not guiltless of McKinley's death?

"The same kind of teaching is being continued now, month by month, day by day, in Hearst's journals. Its legitimate consequence, if continued, must be in other weak dupes playing the role of Czolgosz; other McKinleys stretched upon the bier; discord and bloody strife in place of the reign of peace and order throughout our fair land. It is not the spirit of Washington or Lincoln; it is a spirit of malice for all, charity toward none; it is the spirit of anarchy, communism, Kish-enev, and Bialystok.

"Men of New York, do you love your country? Are you not proud of your country? Are not its liberty, its justice, its equal laws, the best that weak erring men have ever yet attained in this world?

"Have not those of you who have come to us from other lands found better conditions of life, better employment, better wages, greater personal independence and dignity, better opportunities for your children than ever before? Do you wish to join your voices to that which declares this freest republic, this foremost result of government by the people, to be all vile and rotten and disgraceful?

"The public knows the character of Mr. Hearst only by the newspapers he publishes. God forbid we should set up in the high station of governor of New York, for the admiration and imitation of our children, a man whose character is reflected in the columns of the New York Journal and the New York American.

What a Hearst Victory Means.

"The immediate and necessary effect of Hearst's election would be to deprive the president of the moral support of the state of New York; it would be to strengthen the president's enemies and opponents and to weaken and embarrass him in the pursuit of his policy.

"The election of this violent extremist would inevitably lead to reaction against all true reforms and genuine redress of grievances. There is no enemy of true reform so fatal as sham reform; there is no enemy of the sincere, faithful public servant, who is seeking by patient and well directed effort to frame and enforce just laws, like the selfish agitator who is seeking his own advancement; there is no ally of unscrupulous wealth so potent as the violent extremist who drives good, honest, conservative men away from the cause of true reform by the violence of his words and the intemperance of his excessive proposals.

Appeal to Workmen.

"I beg the workmen of New York who may hear or read my words to think upon these questions: Do you believe in President Roosevelt? Do you agree with his policy in pursuing and preventing corporate wrongdoing?
Do you wish he may be able to continue that policy with power and success?

"If so do, then help him by your votes. I say to you, with his authority, that he greatly desires the election of a Republican house of representatives to work with him next congress; I say to you, with his authority, he greatly desires the election of Mr. Hughes as governor of the state of New York."

"I say to you, with his (Roosevelt's) authority, he regards Mr. Hearst as wholly unfit to be governor, as an insincere, self-seeking demagogue, who is trying to deceive the workmen of New York by false statements and promises. I say to you, with his authority, that he considers that Mr.
Hearst's election would be an injury and discredit alike to honest labor and to honest capital, and a serious injury to the work in which he is engaged of enforcing just and equal laws against corporate wrongdoing.

Roosevelt's View of Hearst.

"President Roosevelt and Mr. Hearst stand as far apart as the poles are asunder. Listen to what President Roosevelt himself has said of Mr.
Hearst and his kind. In President Roosevelt's first message to congress, speaking of the assassin of McKinley, he spoke of him as inflamed by the reckless utterances of those who, on stump, in public press, appeal to the dark, evil spirits of malice, greed, envy, and sullen hatred. The wind is sown by men who preach such doctrines, and they cannot escape their share of the responsibility for the whirlwind that is reaped. This applies alike to the deliberate demoagogue, to the exploiter of sensationalism, to the crude, foolish visionary who, for whatever reason, apologizes for crime, or excites aimless discontent."

"I say, by the president's authority,
in penning these words, with the horror of President McKinley's murder fresh before him, he had Mr. Hearst specifically in his mind.

"And I say, by his authority, that what he thought of Mr. Hearst then he thinks of Mr. Hearst now."

Dangers Pointed Out.

This ended that part of Secretary Root's speech which dealt directly with Hearst. The secretary of state preceded his denunciation of the editor-candidate with an able, thoughtful discussion of the issues of the campaign in New York, which made it of national importance. He told of the evils, with which the federal government was grappling, and said:

"All these have not been easy; it has required not merely skill and ability and patient industry and the tremendous personality of the president against all-powerful influences urging on congress and lawyers and courts but it has required and still requires persistency, long-continued and constant effort, a deliberate, settled and unvarying policy.

"That policy is now before the American people for their approval or disapproval and it is confronted by two dangers. The first danger is lest the people should refuse to return a majority of Republicans in the house of representatives, which has stood so loyally by the president, and should return a Democratic majority, which will be in opposition to the president.
Do not be deceived about that. Under our system of government effective affirmative governmental action requires the co-operation of both president and congress; that co-operation can be had only with a house of representatives of the president's own party. It can not be had by rejecting and punishing the members of the house who have been working with the president in the past.

Would Embarrass President.
"A Democratic house, in inevitable conflict with a Republican senate, would not really help the Democratic party, but it would hinder, embarrass, weaken and dishearten the president and his associates in carrying on the policy in which they are engaged. Independent and patriotic Democrats equally with Republicans ought to avoid a result so disastrous to our country.

"The second danger is lest in this greatest of states, the president's own state, the voters shall reject Mr.
Hughes, who was the president's own choice for the nomination, who by his character and his achievements has shown himself fit and competent in the great office of governor of this state to help hold up the president's hands and to carry on in this state the same policy that the president is carrying on in the nation and should elect to that great office a violent demagogue in the person of Mr.
Hearst."

Popular Government.

On the subject of popular government Secretary Root said:
"I firmly believe that the contention of the friends of popular government are right; I believe the people of this country and of this state under our system of universal suffrage and universal education, are sure to come out right in the long run. Nevertheless it cannot be doubted that many workmen of this state—good, honest men who are entitled to respect and who wish to do the best thing possible for their country—are about to strengthen the enemies and weaken the friends of popular government all over the world by voting for Mr. Hearst, who is just the kind of a demagogue I have described.
"He is, indeed, an especially dangerous specimen of the class, because he is enormously rich, owns newspapers

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Female Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can we dispute the well-known fact that American women are nervous? How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, I seem as if I should fly," or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in woman is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability; spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps; pain in the abdominal region and between the shoulders; loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia; a tendency to cry at the least provocation—all these point to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. M. E. Shotwell, of 103 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I cannot express the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite. I could not sleep and would walk the floor almost every night."

"I had three doctors and got no better, and life was a burden. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has worked wonders for me. I am a well woman, my nervousness is all gone and my friends say I look ten years younger."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick, weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasure, rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. MORAN ON THE TRAIL

Candidate for Bay State Governor Has Struck Fresh Tracks of a Trust.

CALLS ON JEROME FOR PAPERS

Michigan Man Presents Evidence—O. A. Baker a Feature.

Story That Collier's Weekly Withholds an Expose and Governor Hanly Declined to Take Up the Case.

Boston, Nov. 5.—District Attorney John B. Moran has sent a letter to District Attorney William T. Jerome, of New York, in which he states that he is informed by ex-State Senator A. D. Hughes, of Michigan, that there is in the possession of Collier's Weekly

ly evidence in the form of original documents, letters, telegrams and secret codes which tends to that an organized method of legislative corruption is practiced by the so-called tobacco trust throughout the country. The letter follows:

Sends some Copies Along.

"I am credibly informed by one A. D. Hughes, formerly a state senator of Michigan, that there is in the possession of the proprietors of a publication by name Collier's Weekly, having its principal place of business in New York city, evidence in the form of original documents, letters, telegrams, secret codes, and the translation thereof, some copies of which I now have, and which I append herewith for the purpose of identification, which tends to show an organized, systematic and general method of legislative corruption practiced by the so-called tobacco trust throughout the country."

Been Operating in Massachusetts.

"I am informed that some of the documents, copies of which I do not have, tend to show that several bills affecting the interest of the said tobacco trust were defeated at the capital of this commonwealth at the last session of our general court [Massachusetts legislature] by practices which are a part of this systematic scheme."

PUBLICATION HELD BACK

So Moran Is Informed and a Political Reason Alleged.

"I am informed that the proprietors of the said Collier's Weekly have purchased the evidence for a large sum of money under a contract to publish the same not later than ten weeks after the first day of August; that the last day for publishing the same has expired; that the said Collier's Weekly has refused to publish the same according to the contract. I am further informed that Collier's Weekly is delaying publication of this evidence in violation of its contract, until after election lest it should have an injurious effect upon Republican candidates on election day."

"Therefore I respectfully request you to obtain the same evidence and transmit to me forthwith, in order that I may begin an immediate inquiry as to such acts occurring within my jurisdiction as may be disclosed by an examination of the said documents." In making public the letter Moran also gave to the press copies of many letters, telegrams and codes, one letter being from Hughes.

Hughes alleges that he bought a factory at Marion, Ind., last April from ex-Senator O. A. Baker, and in the factory Hughes found a desk which he asserts was full of correspondence and documents revealing certain transactions with the American Tobacco company. Hughes states in his letter that he endeavored to interest President Roosevelt and Governor Hanley, of Indiana, but was unsuccessful. He then sold the documents to Collier's under contract to be published Oct. 9th last.

Detroit, Nov. 5.—Arthur D. Hughes, of Irving, Barry county, was a senator from the Fifteenth district in the Michigan legislature of 1897-98. O. A. Baker was charged with having attempted to bribe an Indiana legislator. He got away before he could be arrested, and the last place at which he was located was somewhere in Europe.

The best treatment for indigestion and troubles of the stomach is to rest the stomach. It can be rested by starvation or by the use of a good digestant which will digest the food eaten, thus taking the work off the stomach. At the proper temperature a single teaspoonful of Kodol will wholly digest 3,000 grains of food. It relieves the present annoyance, puts the stomach in shape to satisfactorily perform its functions. Good for indigestion, sour stomach, flatulence, palpitation of the heart and dyspepsia. Kodol is made in strict conformity with the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Rowland Bros.

Tone the liver, move the bowels cleanse the system. Dade's Little Liver Pills never gripe. Sold by Rowland Bros. and Leake Bros.

Pine-salve cleanses wounds, is highly antiseptic, unequalled for cracked hands. Good for cuts. Sold by Rowland Bros. and Leake Bros.

Good for everything a salve is used for and especially recommended for piles. That is what we say of DeWitt's Witch Haze Salve. On the market for years and a standby in thousands of families. Get DeWitt's. Sold by Rowland Bros.

SURVEY OF THE FIELD

ONE THING THAT IS CONCEDED

Democrats to Have a Bigger Representation in Congress.

May Be a Landslide Either Way in New York—Interesting Points in the South-Gompers' Campaign.

Washington, Nov. 5.—With election day but a few hours away the political situation has crystallized to an extent that permits a survey of the field, limited, however, to the points where the battle has waged the fiercest between the two dominant parties for control of the Sixtieth congress and for state

supremacy. The managers of both the Republican and Democratic campaign agree that the Democrats are to make gains over their present representation in congress. Both are also agreed as to the states where these gains are to come from, and both are directing the energies of the closing hours of the campaign to these battlefields.

Democratic Gains in New York.

In New York, where the state campaign has eclipsed all else, the vote for representative will be disturbed by local conditions to such an extent that the returns tomorrow night will supply perhaps the most interesting reading for those at the headquarters of both congressional committees. A landslide for either candidate for governor would carry with it unexpected results as to the congressional ticket. It is conceded, on a normal basis, that the Democrats will make gains in this state.

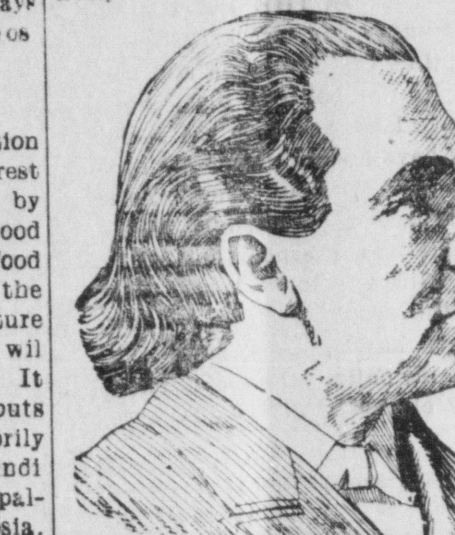

Situation in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania furnishes another interesting situation with the governorship fight between Lewis Emery, Democrat and Lincoln party candidate, and ex-Mayor Stuart, of Philadelphia, Republican nominee. Many Republican and Democratic heavyweights have been sent into the western part of the state and the campaigning has been lively. Representative Dalzell, of Pittsburgh, is having opposition, which some time ago assumed serious proportions. In Dr. R. J. Black, ex-mayor of McKeesport, R. A. Aiken, ex-district attorney of Lawrence county, is making a vigorous campaign against Representative Johnson, whose majority in 1904 was 13,000.

INTEREST IN THE SOUTH

Centers in Three States—Gompers' Organized Labor Campaign.

In the south the interesting points are in Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee. In Texas a campaign against re-election to the United States senate of Joseph W. Bailey is making things lively. M. M. Crane is regarded as the GOVERNOR VARDAMAN OF MISSISSIPPI, leader of the anti-Bailey forces. In Mississippi Representative Williams, the Democratic floor leader of the house, is making a race for the senate against Governor Vardaman. Tennessee furnishes fight between H. Clay Evans, Republican, and Representative Patterson, Democrat. The Republicans in the state have hopes of electing more than the two members to congress they now have.

The districts where Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, has made a fight are also points of interest. The labor leader paid his compliments last to Representative Mudd, of Maryland. In Ohio Representatives Kennedy, of the old McKimley district, has been antagonized by Gompers, who supported John C. Welty, the Democratic nominee. The Democrats, now holding but one district in Ohio, are making vigorous contests in a half dozen others. Gompers has been also heard from in the fight in Chicago, and in Speaker Cannon's district in Illinois.

In Missouri the Democrats have great hopes of regaining the five districts lost to them in the tidal wave of two years ago. Much has been done in this state to arouse the party vote by Bryan and Folk. In Idaho the Republicans raised the issue of "Law and Order" in support of the state's prosecutions of officers of the Western Federation of Miners for complicity in the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, while Senator Dubois, who is leading the Democratic fight, declares Mormonism the issue.

In Utah the Mormon church is said to be supporting the Republican nominee for congress, W. D. Haywood, one of the miners' federation officials, now a prisoner in Idaho, is the Socialist party candidate for governor of Colorado. Democrats are confidently looking for gains in Indiana and Iowa. In Massachusetts the governorship fight eclipses all else. Curtis Guild, Jr., Republican, is opposed by John B. Moran, nominated by the Democrats. Prohibitionists and Independence League.

JUST ONE DAY OF REST

Then the New York Leaders Start on a Hot Wind-Up.

New York, Nov. 5.—The two candidates for governor of New York, Hughes and Hearst, rested Sunday after their strenuous campaigning last week, which closed very late Saturday night. Both are scheduled for a number of speeches today in Manhattan, and it probably will be late in the night before election before they will have made their final appeals to the voters.

The usual "Sunday before election" gathering under the auspices of Tammany was held in Harlem. The speakers included Representatives Bourke Cockran and Francis Burton Harrison. Cockran said he believed the political movement headed by Hearst to be "inspired by God, and therefore irresistible."

Election officials and the police department are making thorough preparations to prevent frauds and maintain order at the polls. The details of the preparation against fraud are very thorough.

Michigan's Interesting Feature.

Detroit, Nov. 5.—The most interesting feature of the political situation in Michigan for several months has been the campaign for United States senator. William C. Millam, of Detroit; Representatives William Alden Smith, of Grand Rapids, and Charles E. Townsend, of Jackson, and Hon. Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, are the Republican candidates.

KILLED FOR HIS CHIVALRY

Hears a Woman Scream, and Rushing to Her Rescue Is Murdered by Her Husband.

Cleveland, Nov. 5.—Theodore D. Shafer, 31 years of age, was shot and killed in the Empire hotel by W. P. Willis, a Pennsylvania railroad switchman. Shafer, a boarder at the hotel, heard Willis' wife screaming for help, and while endeavoring to gain admittance to the Willis apartments the door was flung open by Willis, who fired three shots at Shafer, killing him.

Willis escaped from the hotel, but was later captured by a policeman after George Gilbert, a brother-in-law of the murdered man, had run Willis down and was about to shoot him with a rifle. Shafer, who leaves a widow and little girl, formerly lived in Toledo, O.

Two Killed by Electricity.

Stony Falls, S. D., Nov. 5.—Charles Pollock and O. F. Homberg, linemen in the employ of a telephone company, were killed by electricity while at work on telephone pole about twenty-five feet from the ground. A guy rope became crossed with an electric light wire and when the current was turned on in the latter to test it the men received the full voltage and were instantly killed.

College Foot Ball Scores.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Following are the principal college foot ball scores: At Madison—Iowa 4, Wisconsin 18; at Minneapolis—Nebraska 0, Minnesota 13; at Cambridge—Brown 5, Harvard 9; at West Point—Yale 10, Cadets 6; at Princeton—Dartmouth 0, Princeton 42; at Ithaca—Dartmouth 0, Cornell 23; at Ann Arbor—Yanderbilt 4, Michigan 10; at Lafayette—Notre Dame 2, Purdue 0.

Gans Signs with Kid Herman.

Cincinnati, Nov. 5.—Joe Gans, who is playing an engagement at a local theater, met "Kid" Herman, of Chicago, at the Gibson House here and signed articles to fight twenty rounds or to a finish, as the club may desire, on New Year's Day, before the Tonahill (Nev.) Athletic club. The purse is to be $20,000, winner to get 60 and the loser 40 per cent.

Passed for Cadetships.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The following named applicants for cadetship in the revenue cutter service have passed the required examination and will soon receive their appointments: Warner K. Thompson, Ames, Ind.; Gordon T. Finlay, Battle Creek, Mich.; Roy Munro, Detroit.

Died Worth $13,275,356.

New York, Nov. 5.—Appraisal of the property of William Zeigler, concluded Saturday, shows that the gross personal estate is $11,477,140, net personal $10,880,501. The real estate amounts to $2,280,655, making the net real and personal $13,275,356.

SCROFULA AN INHERITED MISFORTUNE

Every one has a hereditary right to a pure blood supply, which insures a strong, healthy body; but how many do we see who have inherited that greatest of all misfortunes, Scrofula, and are struggling under a legacy of disease and suffering? Scrofula is a constitutional trouble handed down from parent to child, a curse from generation to generation as long as the scrofulous matter is allowed to remain in the family blood. As the very foundation of the blood is diseased we see this awful affliction manifested in many ways, such as enlarged glands or tumors about the neck, which often burst and become discharging ulcers, weak eyes, chronic Catarrh of the head, skin diseases, etc. This blighting disease being so firmly entrenched in the blood often attacks the bones, resulting in White Swelling, or hip disease, while a pallid, waxy appearance of the skin, loss of strength, and often lung affections show that the disease is entirely destroying the rich, nutritive qualities of the blood. There is but one way to cure Scrofula and that is to purify the blood and rid it of the germs of disease, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S.

Its purifying and building-up properties make it the ideal remedy for Scrofula. S. S. S. searches out and destroys all poisons and germs, gives strength, richness and vigor to the weak, polluted blood and cures Scrofula permanently. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable medicine, made from roots, herbs and barks and may be taken with absolute safety by young or old. It so thoroughly removes the poison from the blood that no signs of it are ever seen again and posterity is blessed with a pure blood supply. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

DR. McCASLIN AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Delivered Three Forceful Sermons on Sunday—Special Services To Close Wednesday Evening.

Dr. McCaslin preached three sermons Sunday at the Presbyterian church and a large audience greeted him at each service. The sermons were strong expositions of gospel truth, presented in a forceful and impressive way.

The musical portion of the services were unusually fine yesterday. In the morning Miss Wood sang a solo and in the evening the Brotherhood quartet sang and a solo was given by Prof. Myer.

The special services will close on Wednesday night. Dr. McCaslin will preach three more sermons, tonight. The Thief on the Cross; Tuesday, A Faithful Preacher and a Frightened Politician; Wednesday, The Unpardonable Sin. The bible reading on Tuesday afternoon will be on the 15th chapter of I Corinthians and on Wednesday on Revelation.

MINISTERS TALKED POLITICS ON SUNDAY

The preachers of this city got into the political game Sunday and several of the clergymen, it is said, made a few personal remarks during their sermons Sunday evening. Rev. C. C. McLean of the Methodist church made a strong attack on John F. Smulski, republican candidate for state treasurer, but inasmuch as there is no fight on for this office in this part of the state, it is not thought his words will have much effect on the result. Mr. McLean made no direct reference to any of the candidates for county offices. His remarks about this feature of the campaign, like those of the other pastors, were merely along the line of advising their parishioners to do their duty at the polls.

MR. AND MRS. F. O. COLEMAN WILL MOVE TO CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Coleman will leave soon for Chicago where they will reside in the future. Mr. Coleman having secured an excellent position with Burley & Co., of which firm his brother is a member. Mr. Coleman for many years has been connected with the Grand Detour Plow company of this city, and is a capable and thorough business man in every respect. Their many friends in Dixon regret their departure from the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rosbrook have returned from a visit in Chicago.

The L. O. T. M. will meet tomorrow afternoon at their hall. This is a business meeting and all members who can should be present.

STOMACH'S IMPORTANCE.

How to Strengthen It So That It Will Act as It Should.

The stomach is the principal organ concerned in the digestion of food. If it is weak, inactive or out of order and unable to properly digest the food, the body will soon be in a state of semi-starvation.

Then, too, when the stomach is weak, the food is not properly digested and lies in it for hours, decomposing, fermenting and forming poisonous gases and ptomaines that are absorbed into the blood, poisoning the system and impoverishing the blood.

To enjoy good health it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and digestive organs should be strong, and no other remedy equals Mi-o-na in strengthening and giving tone to the whole digestive system.

Relief from the use of Mi-o-na is permanent and lasting. Use Mi-o-na for a few days and the digestion will be good, the appetite keen, and there will be no nausea or distress after eating, no sleeplessness, no nervousness, and the headaches, backaches and disturbed heart action that are the direct result of a weakened stomach will soon be overcome.

Mi-o-na is sold under an absolute guarantee that the money will be refunded unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it. Ask Rowland Bros. to show you the guarantee which they give with every 50 cent box.

NOTHING BUT POLITICS IN THE AIR TODAY

If a stranger had struck Dixon for the first time this afternoon and had listened to the political discussions which have been heard on the street he would have known there were other storm centers than New York state. The campaign certainly reached a climax this afternoon and nothing but politics is to be heard. Betting on the result is light, a few small bets having been placed at noon that the entire republican ticket would be elected. The odds were 5 to 3.
